

Summer-Long Camps Continue to Grow for JP4

The JP4 Foundation is preparing to launch eight summer-long camps across the cities of Minneapolis and Saint Paul. JP4 summer-long camps provide a safe place for kids to build healthy relationships with peers and coaches, engage in learning and playing with each other, and share stories over healthy meals, all while being outside, away from screens. JP4 is set to triple their impact from last year.

Each camp session begins with a daily greeting followed by a walk-and-talk. This activity gives kids a chance to share what's on their mind in a small group, with usually two or three kids per coach, and is by far the most favorite aspect of camp, for the campers and coaches alike. The remainder of camp consists of various stations that infuse some of the great aspects of baseball, and of course, healthy food.

JP4 Foundation supporters are always welcome to visit camp and see for yourself the positive impact you are helping to create in the lives of these children. We'll continue to keep you updated throughout the summer. Be sure to follow us on social media for more frequent updates.
